ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY MILES IN TWO HOURS-OVER FALLS AND ALONG THE BORDER.

othe Central City (Cot.) Couch. Clear Creek is a miniature river that runs through the canyon of the same name. It descends upon a down grade of 400 feet per mile, with here and there a fall over a rock precipice affect or twenty feet in height. Large boulders, twenty test in height. Large contacts, forty and fitty feet in diameter, and weighing thousands of tons, impede its dashing progress every two or three hun-dred yards, while its curves are so sharp and so frequent that the stream can no-where be seen for a distance of a thou-sand feet. Granite chiffs two and three miles high project over it on either side, and give a frightful, romanue and dang-rous appearance to the rushing torrent Just below Black Hawk, on the side of astream a small reservoir had been astructed, in which is kept an ordinary aiff. Last Sunday two little sons of lartin F. Waiker, aged respectively ten-mit tweive years, got into the boat and are splashing the water with a stick, sere spinshing the water with a stick, then the fastening gave way and the boat went drifting toward the rapidly ranning current. The little boys soon discovered their danger, but were powerless to avert it, they clutched hold of the sides of the boat, and, with palled count-chances, awhited their doom. Soon the boat was caught by the current, and began descending at a fearful rate. On she went, the boys hats blew off, and their hair stood straight up; over Black Hawk rapids they went like an arrow, clearing a distance of sixty feet at a single dash. Lighting again on the torrent surface the Lighting again on the torrent surface the boat seemed to have gained a new im-petus, and shot by the borders and toot seemed to have gained a new impetus, and shot by the borders and around the rocky points with the celerity of a sunbeam. At a distance of about sixty miles below the starting point, conductor Gibbons, was standing on the rear platform of the down C. C. train, saw the boat coming and immediately stopped the train. All hands repaired to the water's edge, and did everything in their power to assist the flying boat, but past them she went like a builet from a rifle, and was out of sight in a moment. The conductor then ordered the engineer to put on a full nead of steam and follow as rapidly as possible, which he did, constantly sounding the alarm of danger. He did not get another glimpse of the boat, but the alarm brought the employes at Beaver Creek Station to the look out, and quickly making a slip noose sought to throw it over the bow of the boat as she came under the bridge. This they succeeded in doing, but could no more hold it than they could have held a thunder bolt and over Beaver Falls she went with the speed of the lightning. The falls are about thirty feet high, and at the foot are a number of large bowlders, but the velocity of the boat was so great that it cleared them easily and struck the water some ity of the boat was so great that it cleared them easily and struck the water some twenty feet beyond. From here no mor-tal eye saw the boat or its living freight tal eye saw the boat or its living freight until it reached a point 100 miles below Denver. Through Gold into the Platte river, and under the Denver bridges she went, unnoticed, nor slackened her pace until she lodged in a drift at a distance below Denver above mentioned. The Platte does not run very rapidly, but the boat had acquired such a wonderful speed in its descent from the mountains that it far outrode the current. A Mr. Walsh, who lives on a farm near the drift Walsh, who lives on a farm near the drift where the boat lodged, discovered the boys still in the boat, which was nearly boys still in the boat, which was hearly full of water, and took them to his home. They were restored to their over-joyed parents the following evening, after having accomplished the most per-ilous journey, in the quickest time ever before made by any numan being who
